“ I will always cherish the times we spent together. He was an excellent grandfather. His advice was always spot on, his wisdom was priceless, his smile always put us to ease and his threats were always followed up by a hug and "that a boy"! I remember vividly our last phone conversation and him telling me how proud he was of me (and all of us) and he said, "just in case, know I love and respect you and all of the herd....pass it on". God speed pops and enjoy the reunions in heaven you looked so forward to. Death can not break the bond of love we all share.

Frank & Elizabeth and all the family! Love you more!
