“ Stevie and I grew up together. I'll never forget watching him out the window of my classroom at Jefferson School running to get there, late, even though he lived across the street. This was a common occurrence lol. I would also help him with his paper route, for a small fee, so that afterwards we could stop at True Value to grab a candy bar. There are many other memories that I'll always remember. I haven't seen Steve in quite some time, but I will miss him. God Bless

So many memories, we were super friends since the first grade at Roger's elementary school. A quick little story was when we were in 11th grade and he called my house well my parents house, and got the answering machine. He left the message backwards and said hey Stevie this is Jimhat give me a call.. then paused and Steve and Billy D continued to laugh historically on the machine until it beeped a full 60 seconds later. Lmao.. I came and my Dad was just shaking his head saying what in Hells the matter with you three.. You'll be missed and loved dearly.
